

‘When I first got into it, nobody knew what it was that we were doing. It was like the Wild West.’

— Margaret Hamilton

Discussion

- 1) Margaret speaks of it pretty lightly, but how difficult must it have actually been for her?
- 2) 1960s vs now - what changed and how much still has to change?
- 3) Which something that has this many repercussions who is responsible for a mistake? The team? The specific programmer? Both?
- 4) What's the social significance of Margaret Hamilton? Beyond her work as a software engineer?
